Because of lack of knowledge of revenues to be received, and disregarding previous financial disappointments, many school this session exceeded their loosely drawn budgets by hundreds of thousands of dollars.

When the deficits swamped the schools they were prematurely closed in more than 30 counties. The legislature came to their aid, however, and, according to J. S. Recently returning from a trip to Houston overland by bus, Andre Manieri, popularly known by thousands as "Dad," had occasion and opportunity to make many observations of which he took mental note. WORTHY OF VISIT TO N. O.

MHOUSANDS of people from all adjacent sections will visit New Orleans the coming week-end on the occasion of the annual flower show, to be held at the Municipal Auditorium. We are informed that last year's similar display was one never to be forgotten. Lovers of the beautiful, nature at its best as the horticulturists cultivate and present it, is here for the public edification and personal enjoyment in means and appreciation that find duplication no where else.

The flower show, such as New Orleans makes possible, is inspirational and educational. It might be well to visit New Orleans one of these three days and to profit thereby. No one needs be prophet to say many will visit the city and see its big flower show. It will be worthy of the effort and time.

PLACING R. R. TRAVEL ON COMPUTE TIVE BASIS

IN a five to four decision, the Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered a reduction in basic rail passenger fares from 3.6 to 2 cents a mile.

The commission also ordered a reduction in Pullman rates to 3 cents a mile. These rates now avereage 4 cents.

Under the order, the new fares will be effective June 2.

It was thought possible some of the eastern carriers might go to the courts in an effort to overthrow the decision, but they have made public no plans to this effect.

This will place the railroads on an even competitive basis with bus companies. The majority of people ride the bus because the fare is lower and many for the novelty. The latter, however, has worn out and the average traveler is going back to the railroads.

It would be a mistake to fight this ruling. The railroad will never come back if rates of travel are higher than other means. PIER DEDICATION SUCCESSFUL

CULFPORT'S million-and-a-half-dollar pier dedication last week-end was a thorough success. We have the word of the home paper, the Gulfport Herald, for the statement and that assurance is all-sufficient.

It is gratifying to the sources that made such celebration possible and it is satisfying to the entire State to learn the occasion was so auspiciously and successfully celebrated.

Here is the story of the success, as a whole, told in a nut shell by the esteemed Herald: The coming to the Coast of Governor Hugh L. White, prominent state officials, members of the Legislature and railroad executives on a special train to assist in the dedication of the new $1,150,000 Gulfport municipal dock was pronounced a decided success from every standpoint. State officials and railroad executives who came for the dedication expressed themselves highly pleased with the treatment accorded them.

The Gulfport Chamber of Commerce, the Gulfport City Commissioners and the Port Commission officials are extending their thanks to all persons and institutions who contributed to the success of the dedication. There were 354 persons on the special train from Jackson and many others come in automobiles and on the L. & N.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDDITION AND EXPRESSION

POOR CONSTRUCTION (Biloxi News) HE recently opened short cut highway connecting New Orleans and the Mississippi Coast appears to be what its name implies. And more too apparently it will be shortlived. The Sea Coast Echo reports that unless something is done to put it into better shape there soon will be no more roadbed, as deep ruts are being cut into it because of the heavy rains of the past several weeks. Soon it will be impassable. As it is, traffic has to move over it so slow that it takes as long to pass over it as it does to go around through Slidell. The bad condition exists on both the Mississippi and Louisiana sides. We, however, aren't at all surprised to learn this. Last fall when construction was underway on this project we called attention to the kind and the type of roadway being built and predicted that it would not hold up. Now it can be seen how expensive this road is. Before long the entire road will have to be rebuilt. Another wanton waste of highway funds.

There is no better time for Mississippians to put a stop to such wasteful expenditure of the taxpayer's money. The highway engineers should know enough about their duties of office and should have enough experience in their work to know before they put in a piece of road whether or not it will hold up under the conditions to which it is subjected. There is no excuse for putting in roads which will not serve their purpose. When the road is repaired, we should see to it that there will be no such waste of money. Elections for the highway commissioners will be held this year. It will do well for the people to consider whether they want the past practices continued.

....There is no doubt that Louisana will take a similar stand. and a united stand would serve to mutual advantage.

PRINTING THE NEWS.

(Times Leader)

THE morning mail brought us fourteen "news releases" from the various alphabetical departments and bureaus of the Federal government. Additional matter of the same sort will reach us during the day.

Were we disposed to use all of this gratuitous publicity matter, compiled by the paid employees of the government, we would either have to crowd out ten columns of live news, else add two additional pages to each edition of the Daily Times

Fortunately, the publication of this tremendous volume of government propaganda is not compulsory, and the editorial waste-basket is sufficiently large to accommodate most of

Occasionally, some of these releases may contain an item of general interest. But no busy editor has time to wade thru all of this stuff to find the few paragraphs that are actually worth while, and we have long since ceased to even open mail matter bearing a government "frank."

More than 20.000 words of live news comes into our office each day over the leased wires of the Associated Press, and the local staff of the paper supplies several thousand words more.

We believe that governmental activities are sufficiently covered in this way, and that readers of the paper prefer to get their news from impartial

SENATE PASSES SOUND BILL

THE Senate passed by unanties for violation of the act. House passage of this bill is apparently assured. It is a step in the right direction. Putting the schools on a budget basis, and keeping them there, is an essential part o fany practical plan to prevent repetition of the "emergencies" of past few months.

This "emergency" which forced the closing of so many schools before completion of the full terms, for lack of funds, was largely created by actions of county boards and superintendents in contracting and allowing expenses during the first four months at a rate that exhausted the funds before the normal term was completed.

This bill would prevent such unbusiness-like methods in the futures. The necessity of it, of placing the schools on a budget basis, is so plain that the unanimous vote by the Senate is not surprising, and quick passage by the House will not be.

THE "BUG UNDER THE CHIP"

Fred Sullins is always looking under chips and finding bugs there. We believe we have found a bug under a chip. The chip is the effort being made to get politics out of the colleges and the bug is, of all things, our old fashioned friend, W. F. Bond.

Adult education as a name came into existence in 1924. In October of 1933 the present program in Mississippi was instituted. It was primarily a literacy program and was on a very small scale without adequate supervision.

In 1934 general education was introduced into the plan to take care of those whose educational advantages had been poor and those who, for various reasons, felt the need or desire for further study. Vocational training, nursery schools, and rehabilitation for the physically handicapped came into the program at the

FOOTBALL

Members of Congress from other ran, of Missouri, offers to guarantee a field in St. Louis at no cost. Representatives of Dallas and Cleveland also speak for the game.

IMPROBABLE

Further tinkering with the dollar or international stabilization are improbable. Word from abroad is that Italy faces serious financial trouble, Germany is in difficulty, and France may have to devalue the franc.
